

FOURTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1895.

ONE CENT.

Swallow CIRCULATION
LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!
The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "bait" free any more than a merchant can lose over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Calls
Upon THE LEADER for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Marriages
Marriages, divorces, and other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for ordinary notices, resolutions of respect, etc., THE LEADER will charge FIVE CENTS A LINE, and hereafter this will be the invariable rule. This, however, is a concession.

Does Not Include
Notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.
Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for business notices in THE LEADER is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a business notice inserted in the paper, and the publisher inserts it. The customer pays for it. The publisher is not responsible for the contents of the notice. If the customer wishes to alter it, he must do so before it is printed. If the customer wishes to cancel it, he must do so before it is printed. If the customer wishes to alter it, he must do so before it is printed. If the customer wishes to cancel it, he must do so before it is printed.

There is a terrible odor emitted from it, and we think that the water might be diseased. Maybe, friend Card, something has crawled into it and died.
Governor Bradley thinks that many visitors who come to Frankfort would like to see the pictures presented Kentucky by Philadelphia without going to the Governor's private office. EXPRESS BUSINESS.
What Agent Cartmell Did During the Holiday Rush.
The business of an express office is a pretty good index of business in general; and the unusually large trade enjoyed by Maysville's enterprising and Advertising merchants—detailed at length in yesterday's LEADER—was fully shared by Agent Robert M. Cartmell of the Adams Express Company, who has kindly furnished us with the number of packages sent and received by the local office on the dates below:

John H. Shea, Governor Bradley's Private Secretary pro tem, has tendered his resignation. Mr. John P. Cassidy of Louisville, an expert stenographer, was appointed to the place which will attend to the Governor's correspondence till a permanent appointment is made.
That was a regular old-timer and yard-wide-stub and twin-blissard that struck Maysville amidships about 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It improved as the day grew older, and by 4 o'clock was a beautiful sight. The wind died and the new arrival for Friday. At the nightfall the wind subsided, it grew clear and cold, and the streets were delightful for moonlight lovers in low-cut slippers. Maysville has the finest streets in the world, as every one here, and best of all her citizens are happy with them.

FLOTSAM—JETSAM—LIGAN!

NEWLY NOTED FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The Keystone State passed up last night for Pittsburgh.
The Hudson will pass down from Pittsburgh about Sunday.
The Bonanza is now running in the Cincinnati and Memphis trade.

A big river may be looked for, as there have been a good twenty-four-hour down-pour above.

Nature's Christmas gift to the river men in the shape of a good, substantial rise in the Ohio was a very acceptable one.

Coal is extremely scarce on the lower Mississippi. Railroads are hauling it into Natchez to be used by the boats for fuel.

The report that the Beaver had wrecked her entire tow in the Inverness. The boat lost only two barges, and the J. C. Risher ran into the two sunken boats, but escaped with only a scare.

The Mississippi at St. Louis is at flood tide, the marks registering over 23 feet, while the Ohio, as mentioned above, and other rivers in Missouri have practically become regular seas, rendering thousands of people homeless.

Something like 12,000,000 bushels of black diamonds are now on their South-east journey from Pittsburgh, while the Kanawha fleet will add about 6,000,000 bushels more to this, making 18,000,000 bushels of coal coming on the present tide.

There are rumors of a steamboat war between Louisville and Evansville which have partial confirmation. The rumor is that the Louisville and Evansville Packet Company will put in the Columbus to fight the Ohio River Transportation Company between Henderson and Evansville, in which event the latter will put the fast steamer Royal and Jewel in between Louisville and Evansville, securing an other boat in the Henderson trade in place of the Jewel. The Royal recently entered the Evansville and Cannelton line in opposition to the packet company on that part of the river. Officers of the Royal admitted that they would enter the Louisville trade, provided the Columbus was put in the Henderson trade.

Horacehound Candy Andy at J. James Wood's.

Despite the wretched weather, there was a fairly good audience at the Operahouse last evening. The beneficiary, Mrs. Julia Pearce Cummings, deserved a crowded house, and would have had it but for the elements.

Those who attended were delighted, as they might be, for the program was replete with musical gems, each duly rendered. We learn that the net proceeds amount to about $75.

WE'RE FOR AMERICA! AMERICANS!

Spain, already in no very good humor with the United States, is making faces over the back of the British lion, and talking about an alliance with Great Britain in case of hostilities. Well, we can wallop both of the two of you!

In 1891, under the McKinley Tariff, American farmers sold $3,844,232 worth of hops in "the markets of the world." In 1895, under the Gorman Tariff, they sold only $1,872,597. Does this look like we were "capturing" those markets?

The first step of the Republicans will be to increase the revenues of the Government so that its income shall be greater than its expenditures. No Government and no people can prosper when the outgo continually exceeds the income.

PHILADELPHIA'S great trolley strike is ended. JOHN WANAMAKER is the man who brought about the settlement, succeeding where all others failed. Now let some of the able Democratic editors set another snare at Mr. WANAMAKER, a chief sin is business sense and Republicanism.

THE LEDGER, as its motto at the head of this column emphatically indicates, is for "America and Americans;" therefore, it is for Protection to American Industries and the employment of American workmen; and therefore, again, it is for the restoration of the main features of the McKinley Tariff; and therefore some more, it is for WILLIAM McKINLEY for the next President of the American Nation.

The coming Republican Legislature, with the aid of some honest Democrats, if there are any such in the Senate, will most likely abolish that useless sinecure, the office of Register of the Land Office. This office costs the taxpayers of the state $24,000 a year, and in the way of free brings in only $6,000 a year—a clear loss of $18,000 annually. For what little there is to do, the office could be made a part of the Auditor's Office, and a clerk or two could be assigned to its duties. Then, too, the office of Comptroller's Attorney might be dispensed with, saving $15,000 in salaries and many times that in fees. It is safe to say that the abolition of these two offices would save the state from $39,000 to $40,000 a year without violating the provisions of the laws. There are other changes that can be made that will make a saving to the state of at least $300,000 a year.

CLEVELAND, CARLISLE and a few other financiers of their stripe, including the Washington end of The Courier-Journal, insist that the Government is not in need of any more revenue. Let's see: the latest statement made by Mr. CARLISLE himself shows that the Treasury deficit for December is now $2,039,906.53, for the fiscal year $18,809,132.21, and for the Cleveland Administration $130,768,686.78. In other words, since Mr. CLEVELAND and Mr. CARLISLE started in to run the Government finances they have paid out $130,768,686.78 more than they took in! It strikes us that if our expenses were that much greater than our receipts, it would be about time to look for some employment that would yield a larger income than THE LEDGER now affords. At least that's the way it looks to a common, every-day banker. To be exceedingly blunt about the matter, CLEVELAND and CARLISLE ought to be bored for the hollow-horn.

Representative Burns of Michigan has introduced a bill to feature the McKinley Tariff Bill schedule covering agricultural products, wool and woven goods and silk and silk goods.

What an object lesson we have as to the benefits of the Wilson Tariff in the reports from Washington of the imports and exports for the first nine months of the present year. There was a falling off in exports of more than $18,000,000, and an increase of imports of more than $97,000,000 below the sales of the same period last year, although we were promised that the Democratic Tariff would work directly the other way. It is true that the Wilson Tariff has opened up the markets of the world, but we are on the wrong side of the world to get the benefit.

Typhoid fever is epidemic in a portion of Harrison county.

Mrs. Harry K. Tetuka, who was the first Chicago girl to marry a Japanese, has her drawing-room crowded with portieres over 200 years old, brought from the old temples of Japan. Mrs. Tetuka uses the chopsticks like a native, and is especially fond of Japanese cooking.

Residents of Ashland, Portsmouth and Ironton will join in an endeavor to recover a fortune of $46,000.00 due the Pegg heirs at Philadelphia. The claim arises through the expiration of a ninety-nine year lease upon valuable property located the city, and the claim has been in litigation since 1902.

MADE OLD FRIENDS GLAD.
A Story of John D. Rockefeller's Unselfish Generosity.

A story of the characteristic generosity of John D. Rockefeller comes from Mt. Victory, a small Ohio village.

When Mr. Rockefeller was a young man struggling to get a footing in life, he boarded with a widow who looked after him in a kindly, motherly way and did him many little favors, none of which he ever forgot.

Many years afterwards, learning that she was married and settled on a farm near Mt. Victory, he resolved to visit her. He found her in cramped circumstances, with a large family to look after. Age and hard work were beginning to tell on the couple. They had a large farm, but it was heavily mortgaged.

Mr. Rockefeller in the course of his visit found out all about their troubles. As he started to leave he presented the lady a beautiful book. He then went to the bank where the mortgage was paid, and finding it amounted to $2,000, paid it by a New York draft certified by telegraph and had the "satisfaction price" properly recorded.

A few days later he received a letter from the lady acquainting him with the fact that she had owed a $1,000 bill; in the book given her and asking him how to return the money. He replied simply: "The bill is one of the illustrations of the book and belongs to you."

About six months later he received another letter saying that they had been to the bank to pay the interest on the note when they were quietly informed that the entire mortgage had been paid off by a stranger six months previous.

Mr. Rockefeller in telling this story remarked that he found the greatest possible satisfaction in such unobtrusive beneficence to friends of his youth.
